

2015 ANNUAL REPORT

MISSION

Bring water, food, health and education to the neediest parts of the world.

We do this by:

1

WORKING THROUGH LOCAL PARTNERS to promote community-based leadership, broad ownership and services that are relevant to the culture

2

ASSESSING NEEDS OF DEVELOPING COMMUNITIES to ensure strategic plans meet actual needs of the community and are not imposed solutions based upon outside interests

3

LEVERAGING RESOURCES & EXPERTISE that meet identified needs, maximize strong partnerships and transform developing communities

VISION

We work with local partners to assess needs of the community, leverage resources and expertise to meet identified needs and transform developing communities through partnership and opportunity.

MESSAGE TO OUR CONTRIBUTORS

"I have never seen a site like this!"

Poul Bertelsen, MSAADA Architects

Productivity marked 2015 as ETI continued to leverage resources to maximize impact. Poul Bertelsen (Director, MSAADA Architects) inspected KARUCO and announced that all buildings exceeded International Standards. The Academic Zone is nearly complete while using all local materials and labor thus bolstering the local economy. The Solar Advisory Board planned for renewable energy. In addition, ETI grew its infrastructure in order to reach many more. We are confident that our donors will come forward and...

BE PART OF THE STORY.
